DISTRIBUTION OF WORKING TIME (REMARKS TO DISCUSSION)

The distribution of working time is an important part of the process of planning and working time accounting, so the legislator emphasizes the duty of its determination, also by employers who are not obliged to introduce work regulations. The lack of statutory definition does not cause controversy, especially since this term is invoked in conjunction with the concept of working time system, so its clarification and isolation is necessary (in some statutes the concept of time distribution is wrongly equated with the system of working time). The biggest problems concern creating schedules for persons working irregularly (f. ex. shift work). The source of many problems is the lack of the Code provisions concerning time distribution, which is called the "schedule of working time". The legal regulation of the issue is therefore necessary.
