14 March 2024 - Deadline for paying the conference fee

4 April 2024 - Deadline for submitting the full paper

10 May 2024 - Conference date

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS:

An abstract (up to 500 words with no more than 5 keywords) should be submitted with the application form.

The author of the abstract/paper can only be a PhD student/PostDoc researcher in law or law related fields.

One author can submit a maximum of one (1) abstract.

It is not possible to submit/publish an abstract/paper in co-authorship.

Accepted abstracts will be published in the printed version of the Book of Abstracts.

After the acceptance of the abstract, each participant will be assigned a supervisor (1. full professor, associate professor or assistant professor from the Faculty of Law in Split; or 2. an external supervisor from the Faculty of Law in Split; or 3. full professor, associate professor or assistant professor from other university units; or 4. an external supervisor from the other university units) who will be available as an expert in the field of the research topic (in-person or online) to assist the PhD student/PostDoc researcher in preparing, analysing and conducting the research activities, i.e. to refer to the latest relevant sources of literature and relevant jurisprudence at national, European and international level, thus contributing to a more successful scientific and research work of the participants.

The supervisor prepares a separate report for each participant to whom he/she is assigned<sup>1</sup>. The report will include all the supervisor's references for work with the participant (teaching activity in the field of the accepted topic; publication of papers in the field of the accepted topic; work on a project, etc.) and a reasoned assessment of the participant's success in proving the set hypotheses of the work and presentation of research results at the international level. The evaluation of the supervisor's work, as well as the assessment of the satisfaction of the conference participants regarding the success and quality of the application of the acquired knowledge in further scientific and research work, will be carried out by filling out an anonymous questionnaire by the conference participants.

CALL FOR PAPERS:

Authors of accepted abstracts have the opportunity to submit a full paper (in English) of no more than 10,000 words (including tables and references), which will be reviewed by at least two reviewers. After a double blind review, the accepted papers will be categorised (as a original scientific paper; review article; preliminary communication; professional paper) and will be published in a Book of Proceedings (electronic edition) prior to the conference.

The submission of the full paper is voluntary, but strongly recommended!
